What do we mean by “RegisterRenters?”

In 2022, Democrats and other progressives will have a very good chance to re-establish leadership, electing progressive state and local officials and setting the stage to finally control the US Senate by a working majority and amending the filibuster. Finally, progressives can become the majority voice in hundreds of local governments, where equity and social policy begin. It is especially important to elect progressive legislators and Governors because of anti voting-rights initiatives.

But the highest priority is to overcome the registration advantage held by conservatives in many local races. “RegisterRenters” can help. Because “RegisterRenters” is based on solid demographics. Over 100 million of our fellow US citizens rent. Most of those 18 and older who rent their housing are not legally registered to vote where they live.

Further, according to a University of Virginia poll, almost 70% of those who lived in all rental housing in 2000 would have voted for Al Gore in the 2000 Presidential election. THERE ARE OVER 55 MILLION UNREGISTERED VOTERS IN THE UNITED STATES WHO ARE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE. MOST ARE RENTERS. AND MOST OF THEM WILL VOTE FOR PROGRESSIVES OR DEMOCRATS IF REGISTERED.

“RegisterRenters” makes a lot of sense. Most renters come from the liberal affinity groups that support progressive Democratic candidates in large numbers: minorities, young people, single parents and the poor. Many political activists, consultants, and candidates still believe these groups have a very poor turnout rate. But we have PROVEN when these groups are actually registered, they turn out to vote as well as any progressive voters—by up to 85%. Of course, there are other commendable registration efforts that are targeting these affinity groups; but to our knowledge, none are focused primarily on the highly mobile rental community.

The concepts of “Register Renters” have already been field-tested in local elections in Colorado, where registration programs regularly add 10% to progressive margins every election. In 2004, 1,000 RegisterRenters volunteers distributing over 150,000 registration packets in Colorado and thousands more in Nevada. During the 2004 election, Colorado Democrats elected their first majority in BOTH HOUSES of the legislature in 40 years—with many successful candidates giving credit specifically to RegisterRenters volunteers for their margins. In 2006, for the first time in a half century, Colorado elected a progressive Governor and added to the majorities in the Legislature. Then Colorado won the National Democratic Convention for 2008.

Where Should RegisterRenters Focus?

While ANY progressive or liberal Democrat is invited to organize a RegisterRenters effort. This year, RegisterRenters will urge a focus on state legislative and Congressional races in key swing states and Congressional Districts with big populations of poorly registered urban populations. We suggest you do the same.

In your own state, you might find a race for the state legislature, Congress, Governor or other race where you can be productive in the short term. For example, if you have a state house race where there are 35,000 registered Republicans and 30,000 registered Democrats and 40,000 who are unaffiliated, you may have a swing district, even if the district has voted for conservatives for years. You can count on adding about 10% to your registration margin with a thorough RegisterRenters effort. And when active RegisterRenters' volunteers follow up with GOTV (Get Out The Vote), they can certainly make the difference. We saw this happen in several conservative suburbs in Colorado, Nevada and other states.

You should also consider the long view. Forty years ago, there were no Democrats elected from Boulder County, Colorado. Now, Republicans are so scarce, they often do not put up candidates for partisan races. The main difference was voter registration and targeting*. Even very conservative Colorado Springs is changing!

Targeting may be the "secret sauce." In Boulder County, the Democratic Party's formula for targeting was directed at voter registration until October, then GOTV during the last four weeks of a campaign. Whereas campaigns run by candidates, especially Presidential candidates, often focus on turning out only voters identified as preferring the candidate, we focused on (a) Turning out all registered Democrats in a household, and any unaffiliated voters in that household in any precinct; (b) Turning out all registered democrats and all unaffiliated voters in any precinct with a DPI (democratic performing index or %) of 60% or more; and 3. Turning out all newly registered voters not registered as Republicans.

For purposes of voter registration, similar targeting was helpful: Place registration information 1. At any rental unit in a precinct with a DPI greater than 60%; and 2. At all rental units where there are any minority voters registered or listed on a directory; 3. At all rental units in working class neighborhoods; 4. At all units in a mobile home park; and 5. At any rental unit close to a college campus immediately after students arrive in the fall.

Volunteers Needed By RegisterRenters

There are always thousands—even hundreds of thousands—of volunteers in every election cycle. Sadly, most of them are wasted. Most call into Headquarters or a campaign and are told, “I’ll take your name and we will get right back to you.” And it never happens, or the call back is made days or weeks later, after the volunteer has decided he or she would prefer to go fishing or take care of the grandkids. Others are assigned to useless phoning off lists of registered voters or sent canvassing registered voters to determine their “voter preference” on a survey. These volunteers will be burned out in a day, or a week at most. On the other hand, RegisterRenters volunteers can and must be put to work immediately, and the process is both painless, productive, and rewarding.

Two people can drop about 200 voter registration packets per hour, while one person can put together 200 the packets in an hour. If you have a targeted population of 100,000 eligible voters, at the most, 40,000 will be renters living in about 20,000 units. So, you will need about 300 volunteer hours for one canvass. Twenty-five volunteers could work four hours putting together registration packets; then 50 could spend four hours actually taping the packets to doorknobs. You will need the same volunteer hours if you plan to drop packets in the same area during the month before registration closes.

Of course, a lot of work must go into preparing for this type of work. First, you will need a volunteer to canvass the area to locate the rental units. You may need to call into locked units to gain access. You will need someone to print the materials. Finally, you will need someone to recruit and coordinate the registration volunteers—they do not grow on trees, and they will not turn out unless you call and ask them, and then remind them.

But you can start today. Go ahead. “Just do it!” Start as your first volunteer. You will find out how easy and rewarding RegisterRenters can be.

NOTE--COVID19: One of the advantages of the RegisterRenters model is our volunteers can and should wear masks and be relatively more safe distributing registration packets to rental units. Volunteers who are asked to work in a group office, or go to mass events, or staff tables at rallies can still wear masks, but the direct interaction without social distancing in confined spaces is much more frequent. And people attending mass events or rallies are often not wearing masks. We think RegisterRenters is a safer model, and more effective.

How Much Money Is Needed?

You can start your own Register Renters program today with your own printer, some mailing labels, and a stack of envelopes. It's simply a matter of printing out the federal voter registration form EAC.GOV, getting the address of your County Elections Office, and copying one of the appeals below. Print up 200 packets and distribute them according to the instruction sheet. You're in business. You've started your own chapter of RegisterRenters. Then, you can start expanding your efforts with friends and family; or use the following suggestions for a county or a legislative race. Just remember, there are some regulations you need to follow to stay out of jail. They are found attached to the National Registration Form.

If you decide to take on a legislative race, for example, the approximate voter registration packet component costs are:

- Voter Registration Form (If printed both sides @ 3 Cents)
- Voter Registration Packet Flyer (8½ x 11 sheet cut in half @ 1 Cent per sheet)
- Return Envelope (2 Cent each if you shop carefully)
- Address Label for Registrar Address (1/2 Cent each)
- Blue Masking Tape - $1 per volunteer will do about 500 packets

For an area of 100,000 eligible voters, there will be at most 40,000 renters in about 20,000 dwelling units. Two registration canvasses for 20,000 rental units will require you to raise $3,100 (see detail below). Register Renters includes a fundraising letter that should be able to produce this sum with a mailing to 1,000 local activists for a mailing cost of $600. Our first mailing of this size raised $15,000 in 2004. (Of course, these are averages. Your numbers may vary widely.)

Forms:	40,000*.03=$1,200
Appeals:	40,000*.005=$200
Envelopes:	40,000*.02=$800
Return Label:	40,000*.005=$200
Blue Tape:	40,000/500*$1=$100
Fundraising Mailing:	1,000*.60=$600
Total Expense for Two Canvases:		$3.100

The Register Renters' Timetable

RegisterRenters can be started anytime. Democratic organizations and progressive non-profits usually conduct voter registration during the year before the regular Presidential election. Partisan fervor at this time brings out volunteers, contributors, and organized efforts to get-out-the-vote (GOTV). At these times, it is certainly easier to organize a RegisterRenters campaign, but you will run into lots of other campaign activities, especially from the well-funded Presidential campaign.

However, we believe RegisterRenters can be very effective in special elections, primary elections, and non-Presidential elections, as well as city and school board elections. One dedicated activist even used RegisterRenters successfully in a school board recall election. It could be that in these low-turnout elections, newly registered voters can produce swing votes if there is a good GOTV effort. It is possible RegisterRenters could even be used before caucuses and rallies.

Because you may want to use RegisterRenters in these special situations, the following timetable is presented in terms of months or days before the registration deadline. This gives you lots of time to organize. Registration deadlines vary by state and even by type of election. They are typically 30 days before the election but may be less. A few states have no deadline but have "same day registration." However, even in these states, pre-registration programs are very important for identifying voters for GOTV efforts and other reasons. For example, in Colorado, you must be registered to receive a mail ballot. Don't wait, voters registered in January are way more likely to turn out to vote than those who are not registered.

5 months out Recruit your registration team. This team will include the Team Coordinator (if other than yourself), Volunteer Coordinator, Materials Coordinator, and Data Coordinator plus volunteers to help and back up each coordinator.

4 months out Start identifying rental areas and developing maps. Also, prepare and mail the fundraising letter with return card and envelope. (See sample letter.) All contributions should come back to a person who will record and deposit them and report on all contributions and expenditures if REQUIRED by campaign laws for money spent in "coordination" with any candidate or political party.

3 months out Start volunteer recruitment and printing and preparing materials for first canvas. The first volunteers can prepare materials. These materials include the federal voter registration form in English or English and Spanish. Your state probably has an approved voter registration form designed for Voter Registration Drives defined under state law. Since RegisterRenters volunteers are ONLY providing educational materials and NOT taking possession of voter registration forms, it is our opinion you are exercising your First Amendment rights and are not required to comply with VRD statutes. However, this is a lay opinion and your jurisdiction may interpret the law differently. That is why we suggest you get a signed exemption letter from your local registration agency or Secretary of State. (We got a letter to that effect from the Colorado Secretary of State years ago)

2 months out Complete first canvas of all rental units that were identified. Materials should be prepared in packets of 100, rubber banded and placed in grocery bags of 200 each. Materials are simple: one voter registration form, folded in half; one appeal and one return envelope inserted into the folded voter registration form. This simplicity is important; it prevents confusion. You may also insert other literature, including candidate literature; but this will probably detract from the goal to register new voters. (Also, if you “coordinate” with a candidate or pay for any candidate literature with funds you’ve raised for your RegisterRenters effort, you may be required to report these expenditures.) These materials are to be taped TO DOORKNOBS. Do not drop them onto the floor or tape them onto any painted surface. You can knock or ring a doorbell and hand the materials to the occupant if you do not find this stressful, but it will take you 3 to 4 times longer to complete a 200-home canvass, and unless you are canvassing after 6 PM, less than 25% of your knocks may be answered. If you choose to knock, you may get a little hostility, but also a lot of good cheer, a bathroom break, and even a beverage. But it will be more stressful and take more time. (And expose you to more Covid19.) We suggest you not require any of your volunteers to knock but make knocking completely voluntary. The worst thing you can do is burn out volunteers by making the job unpleasant. You will need those volunteers later.

1 month before the registration deadline Complete the second canvas. Timing is important. In areas with a high number of college students, this task must be done after the students arrive, which may be only a week before the filing deadline. In these areas, it is especially important that the appeal letters prominently show the website where students can register or change their address.

Early-Voting and Election Day RegisterRenters is not structured for GOTV, which now starts with early voting or distribution of absentee or mail-in ballots. To conduct good GOTV requires up-to-date registration data from the County Clerk or the national VAN (voter activation network). This is data that candidates and party organizations should have been using for decades. While there may currently be too much local reliance on phoning and email, it is still probably best for a RegisterRenters organization to encourage its tested volunteers to work with these other GOTV efforts. Don’t “coordinate” with these organizations, as this makes you subject to campaign regulations. But releasing your volunteers is good politics. Hopefully, your volunteers will be authorized to work on newly registered voters primarily.

The RegisterRenters Organization

Anybody can start a RegisterRenters program. It is just a matter of printing off a copy of the national form or obtaining copies of your State's standard registration form, printing an appeal letter, identifying local rental units, and working out a plan for distributing the materials. As an individual, you can perform this service while you are also distributing materials supporting any candidate or issue you choose, although we hope you will support progressives or Democrats if you are identifying with RegisterRenters. Generally, if you work alone, you do not need to report your expenses for voter registration. But you should check with your Secretary of State, especially if you are financially supported by a candidate or coordinate with any political or candidate organization.

However, if you are organizing a big, complete county-wide, district wide or state-wide RegisterRenters program, you may need the following:

An Overall Campaign Coordinator for RegisterRenters

A Campaign Coordinator for Registration Materials

A Campaign Coordinator for Registration Data

A Campaign Registration Volunteer Coordinator

In addition, the organization may need a central meeting place available for planning, preparing materials, and meeting with volunteers. It should handle up to 100 persons and be open evenings. We have had complaints about having "too many volunteers."

Covid19 may encourage you to modify this requirement and have smaller Zoom meetings.

You also need a plan to raise approximately 15 cents per rental dwelling unit in the County or Candidate's District to pay for materials. Fundraising letters are below.

RegisterRenters Team Coordinator

The RegisterRenters Team Coordinator is responsible for the following:

1. Oversee the RegisterRenters organization.
2. Encourage and support other efforts to register progressive or Democratic voters, including efforts by candidates, political parties and other groups like New Era, the Sierra Club, student groups or the SEIU and other unions where possible. Spread the joy, don't encourage jealousy.
3. Recruit, supervise and motivate the Registration Team members—the materials coordinator, the volunteer coordinator and the data coordinator. They often need careful, constant attention, coordination and support
4. Raise money. The Coordinator will need to draft, prepare and finance one or more fundraising letters. These fundraising efforts should be discussed with the Campaign or Party Chair, if you are “coordinating” with these groups. A sample fundraising letter is included. If you obtain good contributor lists from former progressive officeholders, you should be able to count on a return of about $10 for each dollar invested in mailing fundraising letters—up to $6,000 for an investment of $600 (we got twice that). The Coordinator will also need to register a corporate name and a tax ID number in order to open a bank account, unless the program is coordinating through a Campaign or Party.
5. The Coordinator will set strategy, like targeting precincts to get the most progressive voters registered and not register conservatives where possible. Someone needs to visit each apartment complex to make sure access is available. A plan will be needed for locked buildings with buzzers and those enforcing policies against “solicitors.” Remember, free speech is not solicitation. A friendly resident can open the door for you.
6. Voluntary reporting to any County or State RegisterRenters organizations and any required reports to state and local elections officials.

Materials Coordinator

The Materials Coordinator is responsible for scrounging and preparing the materials needed to deliver one or two voter registration packets to each renter's door in the targeted precincts, preferably twice.

This will be harder if no money is raised to print adequate materials. The Materials Coordinator should make sure the RegisterRenters Team Coordinator sends out fundraising letters and works to raise other funds.

A sample is attached of the materials that will be needed for each RegisterRenters canvass. These include a brief appeal, a return envelope that needs a label addressed to your local County Clerk or voter registration office, and your state's approved registration form, or the approved federal form found at EAC.GOV. Links to your Secretary of State are there, too. Remember to check the address on the return label to make sure you have the correct address for your Clerk's Voter Registration or Elections Division. You can translate the appeal into Spanish or other local language to print on the blank side of the appeal. See if your Clerk will provide a bilingual registration form, or get one at EAC.GOV. We understand that the standard state form may be far more cumbersome to complete and expensive to print than the standard national form, which federal law requires most Clerks to accept.

Each canvassing volunteer will also need a role of masking tape with instructions that the materials should be folded and taped to the metal doorknob and NOT to any painted surface. Taping to the doorknob has been far more effective than dropping the materials on the doorstep.

After the materials are prepared, collated, and stapled, they will need to be sacked in packages so the canvassers can easily deliver them. This requires finding the precincts that will be canvassed and how many to put in each package. Some canvassers cannot carry more than about 100 pieces of material with comfort, so plan accordingly.

You should also provide each of your canvassers with a bottle of water to take with them to avoid dehydration.

Volunteer Coordinator For RegisterRenters

We hope that your County's political organization already has a Volunteer Coordinator to keep track of the hundreds of motivated people who are looking for something to do in this election.

Your RegisterRenters' Volunteer Coordinator is different. This person will need to be able to contact large numbers of volunteers on very short notice and get them to report to a central location to receive materials and instructions. This person could work very closely with the County Party Volunteer Coordinator but must NOT rely on that person to do this job.

The key to successful volunteer management is getting each volunteer on a productive, useful task within 24 hours of his or her first contact. Some candidates and party organizations fail at this, so their volunteer lists go stale and the most motivated volunteers have found something else to do. After a volunteer's first, successful experience, we have found he or she will stay motivated, and even bug the Coordinator for more work within the RegisterRenters program.

The RegisterRenters' Volunteer Coordinator will first need to recruit five to ten close, trusted friends or volunteers to staff a "phone tree." This will enable the county RegisterRenters program to contact 25 to 50 volunteers to show up on any given weekend for canvassing. Of course, you could be tempted use email or a Facebook group, but a phone tree can get quicker feedback and is more personal. Be aware of the limitations of social media; it was never designed to manage volunteers reliably.

This Volunteer Coordinator should get a list of all the progressive political activists and potential volunteers available from the County Party organization or other progressive groups like the Sierra Club. The Coordinator might also talk to past and present candidates about contributing volunteer lists to RegisterRenters, and should go to all Candidate "meet-ups" to talk about RegisterRenters and recruit volunteers, as long as there is no prohibited coordination with Candidates. Be sure to collect phone numbers. Email can also be useful in sending out instructions, maps, feedback, and encouragement.

The Register Renters Volunteer Coordinator may also get a list of Precinct Committeepersons to call about working with RegisterRenters in their precincts, as this list should be public. Active Precinct Committeepersons can take over canvassing for RegisterRenters where they are available. Where they are not available, the RegisterRenters' Volunteer Coordinator can work to try to direct RegisterRenters' volunteers into these very important positions for later GOTV.

Before every targeted canvass, this Coordinator will need to determine the number of canvassers needed for each precinct. Precincts should be covered in two-person teams of canvassers for volunteer safety. A two-person team can cover about 200 rental units per hour unless they are knocking on each door and waiting for a response, which will take 3 to 4 times as long. Only about 1 in 10 units will respond on a typical weekend. The rate will be much slower on weekday evenings when more people are home and more time is spent talking. Each team should be asked to take notes on the addresses covered and return an evaluation form when the canvass is complete.

County Data Coordinator

The County Data Coordinator is responsible for developing a data team to acquire data about local multi-family rental units. This data may be acquired by driving through precincts or directly from most County Assessors' databases. The voter data base from the County Clerk will also indicate multi-family units when you find buildings with unit numbers. If you are "coordinating" with a Political Party or Candidate, this information may also be available to you through the voter activation network or VAN, an arm of the Democratic National Committee.

Once you have this multi-family data, the Data Coordinator is very important in helping target precincts that need to be canvassed. First, the data should be organized by precinct. Then you need to look in prior years for progressive Democratic turnout in order to target precincts with renter concentrations that are high priorities. You will find that some multifamily rental units are in heavily conservative or Republican precincts, and you will not want to target the rentals in these precincts.

You can also acquire data from most County Assessors that identify those single-family units where the addresses of the homes are different than the address of the taxpayer. These are likely to be rentals and can be targeted in highly progressive or Democratic precincts. We do not have tested data on single family rentals, but we suspect that they are likely to have lower turnover and be in more conservative precincts, which should be avoided.

The job of the County Data Coordinator does not end with the canvass. At regular intervals after each canvass, the Data Coordinator should acquire new voter registration data from the County Clerk and assess the effectiveness of the Register Renters effort. Register Renters does not claim to be a miracle. However, a countywide voter registration effort will produce an impact beyond the immediate homes canvassed. Repeated canvassing may be necessary. Only the Data Coordinator will be able to evaluate the percentage of unregistered voters that remain in each precinct and help the Team Coordinator plan where efforts will be most productive.

The RegisterRenters program also relies on the County Data Coordinators to help document the level of effectiveness of the program and the potential for additional efforts. The more data we collect on the impact of RegisterRenters, the better we will be able to help local volunteers like yourself.

FIND THE UNIVERSAL VOTER REGISTRATION FORM:

1. The National Form can be found at www.eac.gov. Click on “NRVA Form.” The PDF connection is buried at the bottom of the third paragraph in the link that reads “National Mail Voter Registration Form for the one in English. There are also forms in Spanish and 8 other languages just below this link.
2. The National Form and basic instructions are pages 3 and 4 of a 26 page booklet. Most RegisterRenters programs will use their printer program to print off just these two pages, but you will also want to go into the booklet and see if your state instructions are important for registering your voters. For example, Wyoming does not permit forms to be mailed in.
3. OK, if you think this is too complicated, it is. It’s probably intentional; certainly not necessary. But we wanted you to see the barriers being put in the way of voter registration.
4. You can also go back to RegisterRenters.org. We may have the basic NRVA Form online, ready for printing, along with the individualized state instructions.

FIND YOUR STATE AND LOCAL ELECTIONS OFFICE WEBSITES:

1. USA.GOV is a powerful website that is simpler to use. USA.GOV/election-office is a good way to search for your State Office.
2. Your State Office website contains your next voter registration deadline.
3. This website may also have access to an online voter registration procedure. More than 50% of the states enable online voter registration. This could be especially helpful for college voter registration
4. Use this site to drill down to the address of your local election’s office address. After checking this address, use it on the return envelopes you distribute with your voter registration forms.
5. Remember, RegisterRenters is structured as a distribution of literature—an educational program protected by the First Amendment. That means, your volunteers CANNOT collect voter registration forms and deliver them to the County Clerk. This would be defined as a “Voter Registration Drive” or VRD in most states. If you think you want to run a VRD, you can comply with the requirements found on your state’s election website. But you cannot call it RegisterRenters. If you do collect forms completed by voters and have not registered with your state, you may expose yourself personally to a very heavy fine.

To RegisterRenters

Dear Mrs. Jones:

This year, your fellow progressive Democrats have a very good chance to provide the winning margin of votes for _____ and in our state's US _____ race. We can also help win many important legislative races.

We would like to ask you help fund a local "RegisterRenters" project. This is an important voter registration project that will contribute to the winning margin in _____. "RegisterRenters" is based on demographic research showing that 55% TO 75% of the people who live in rental housing are not registered to vote. According to a poll done by the University of Virginia, about 70% of those who lived in rental housing would have voted for the liberal candidate in a past Presidential election. IN THE UNITED STATES THERE ARE OVER 50 MILLION UNREGISTERED VOTERS IN WHO ARE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE IN 2018. MOST ARE RENTERS. And past "RegisterRenters" experience has proven that about 85% of newly registered renters will turn out to vote.

If you want your money to make a real impact this year, "RegisterRenters" makes a lot of sense. Most renters come from the liberal affinity groups that support progressive and Democratic candidates in large numbers: minorities, young people and the poor. When these groups are registered, we can get them out to vote as well as any voters. We have the proof!

If you are considering making a contribution to a worthy effort to change the political landscape in Washington and here locally, please send your check to _____ for a local "Register Renters" project today. Your contribution will be reported as required, so we need you to complete the attached form to send with your check. Or you can contribute online at (insert website if available).
